

LIFE SCIENCE LIABILITY. IT'S WHAT WE DO.

Life Science industry liability continues to evolve as the strategic transformation at the core of Life Science companies accelerates. This highly-complex, fast-paced competitive industry coupled with intense regulatory scrutiny requires underwriting expertise with a dedicated Life Science focus.

We take our research and knowledge of the complex risks facing the Life Science industry seriously and put it to work for each of our clients. We know that no two Life Science companies are the same, and, the increased convergence of technology and data tests the limits of traditional insurance products. We have an innovative coverage form that manages these new industry diversities and integrated risks.

With more than a century of combined experience, Euclid Life Science Specialty brings uniquely focused underwriting, risk and claims professionals together to work with our agents, brokers and clients every day to gain a deeper understanding of the industry at large and each individual risk when designing policy solutions.
